Allied O & P Hosts First Swing/Learn to Golf Clinic in AC

Waterloo, Iowa – Allied Orthotics & Prosthetics of Mt. Laurel, New Jersey once again hosted a First Swing/Learn to Golf Clinic at the premier facilities of Atlantic City Country Club. This is the third year in a row that Allied has hosted the clinic for their patients and the community. The clinic was led by Lou Namm, National Amputee Golf Association First Swing Instructor and bilateral amputee and assisted by Charles Fahy, Atlantic City Country Club Director of Tennis.

The clinic hosted over twenty attendees, including both amputees and those facing physical challenges and their families. First Swing offers both group instruction and one on one coaching so that adaptive techniques and methods can be used to improve the game. Kathy Hipple, a bilateral amputee said, “Wow! Better than I anticipated. Lots of help from more than one source! I really learned a lot and could actually hit some good shots!” The clinic was also covered by two news crews from NBC 40, the local affiliate in Atlantic City.
